

Sample Sissy/Feminization/Orgasm Control Fetish Blog Post

I have to confess...I never ever grow bored with my sissy phone sex boys!

Each and every one provides me with endless amusement and entertainment. Some of my girlie bois just love to dress in pretty lingerie or clothing for me. I especially have a blast helping them pick out a feminine wardrobe with all the trimmings. Sometimes, a feminization phone sex fetishist wants to discover their inner slut and its so exciting to take part in the transformation...knowing that the sheer black babydoll nightie and black lace panties merely set the tone for a sissy boy who is preparing to unleash his most wanton desires and perform very naughty acts at my whim! No matter what the scenario, there is no doubt that before long, I will be giggling and conspiring along with my favorite girlfriend.

Recently, I had the pleasure of engaging in a phone sex sissy fantasy that threw my caller into a near-fit of ecstasy by the end of our session. This sissy boi is a panty-lover at heart and already wears pretty, pastel, flowery panties underneath his regular clothes on most days. When we started our call, he had on a lovely pair of pink and white polka dot satin undies. He also explained that his fantasy of being feminized is coupled with a fetish for having his orgasms controlled and even denied by a sexy woman such as myself. Sooooo...the first thing I had him do for me was pull the panties down just below his bottom and rub his sissy-clit to an edge. This poor, horny boi was moaning and gasping within minutes! But, he knew the rule...no cumming until I give permission.

Then I talked to him about how hot it would be if he gave me a lap dance and next thing you know, a naughty sexy phone sex fantasy began to unravel. My excited sissy admitted he dreamed about performing at a strip club in front of a room filled with sweaty, randy, hard-cocked men. Ohhh.....that nearly caused him to explode on the spot, especially when I described how the men in the strip club would be lining up to slide dollar bills into his thong while he sashayed around on stage. Another edge and once again, no orgasm allowed for stripper sissy boy.

By this point, my caller was begging and pleading to be able to cum. "Not just yet," I sang to him...chuckling devilishly. I love tormenting and cock teasing phone sex...it comes so naturally to me! Besides, orgasms are so much more intense when they don't get to happen right away.

I told my sissy that he had to lie on his back next. While I told him what naughty, dirty sissy he is, he was to run his hands all over his body and imagine that I was touching him, stroking him and continuing to whisper how sexy and slutty he looked all spread out and aching to cum. He described the way his body was writhing around and how he was arching his back like a girl in heat while I giggled and called him "sissy slut". I instructed him to open his legs and slide his hands over his engorged clitty and tell me how badly he needed to cum. His voice was barely a whisper as he begged and carried on. I knew he was so very close to the edge...

What do you think happened next? Do you think this phone sex sissy got to enjoy a nice, hard cum? Check back shortly for part two of this post in which I reveal the very special circumstances sissy boi needed to arrive at in order to determine the fate of his orgasm.
